

Govt. College Bhattu kalan (Fatehabad)

Practice-I

2017-18

Title- Establishment Of Automated Vending Machine For Sanitary Pad For Girls Students.

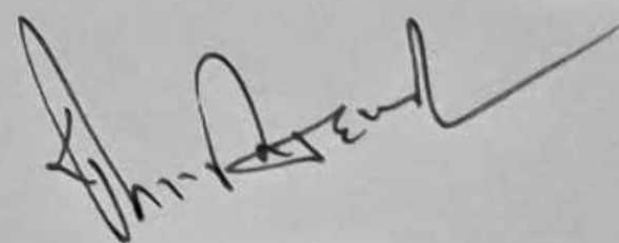

Objective of practice-

- To remove the hesitation in the use of sanitary products among girls.
- The vending machines were being installed to make sure a good and convenient mode for any time access to the sanitary napkins.
- To motivate girls students towards hygiene and cleanliness.
- The aim is to country safe and hygienic sanitary practices among the ladies.
- To supply portable sanitary napkins at economical cost.

The Practice- The college has adopted this practice in guidance of our worthy college council and women cell. For this purpose, an Automated Vending machine was installed in girls common room so that girls can easily take sanitary products when they are in need. This will help girl students to take care to their health and will also help in preventing various diseases. This practice will motivate girl students to use sanitary products which is an essential practice to keep menstrual hygiene.

Evidence of Success- This practice extended a great success among the girls students. This practice achieved the goals behind establishing an automated machine and create an spirit of hygiene among girls students. The availability of sanitary vending machine is certainly very much needed , so girls do not have to bother going out of the college and looking for shops or go shopping at mini market and queue just to get one item needed in certain situations.

Problem encountered- Because most of the girls coming to the college belong to rural areas, there were various objections and hesitations in their mind about the sanitary product, due to these reasons, this practice of the college became almost unsuccessful but the college did not give up. To motivate the girls, various types of motivational lectures and seminars were organized under the aegis of the women cell and NSS Girls Unit, in which female professors, female doctors etc. helped to calm down the various questions arising in the minds of the girls. This task was not so easy. But still the college and the Women Cell of the college were successful to some extent in bringing awareness about use of sanitary products in the minds of the girls.

Principal
Government College
Bhattu Kalan (Fatehabad)

Govt. College Bhattu kalan (Fatehabad)

Best Practice-II

2017-18

Title - EkKadamSwachhta Ki Or

The Content- Cleanliness is essential for everyone's life routine. Cleanliness gives rise to good character by keeping our body, mind and soul peaceful and healthy. Hence our college has adopted this practice to inculcate spirit of cleanliness and hygiene in the mind of students.

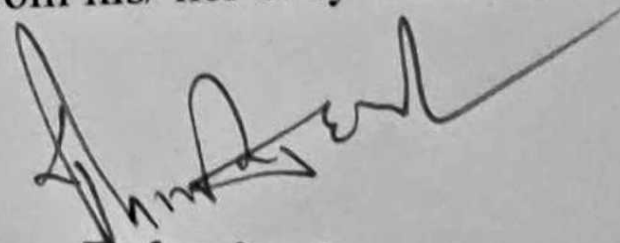

Goals and Objectives of Practice-

- To create disease free environment.
- To motivate students towards cleanliness
- To become a role model for society.
- To cultivate the habits of cleanliness and hygiene among students.
- To strengthen the nation by becoming a part of National Swachh Bharat Abhiyan
- To fill the gap between student life and social life of students.
- To motivate tourism in India.

The Practice- The College has adopted this practice in guidance of our College Principal. In Every social activity, the college staff members NSS volunteers, NCC cadets and other students of college participate voluntarily in these activity .They do the cleaning of roads, grounds, lawns, water coolers etc. and helps other staff in that work.

Evidence of Success- This practice extended a great influence among the students. This practice achieved the success to some extent in creating spirit of cleanliness and hard work among the students. The students have started to convey this message to society. As we know, this practice is not an easy task and still we have to spare whole day out of their schedule. But, to some extent, our college achieved a great success in this regard. This practice also creates social awareness and work culture among the students.

Problem Encountered- This practice don't need any financial support. Since the person involved in this campaign have to spare time/ full day from his/ her busy schedule, so we find

Principal

Government College

Bhattu Kalan (Fatehabad)